

LOK SABHA ELECTION RESULTS ANALYSIS 2024

Introduction:

This report gives a clear analysis of the recently concluded Lok Sabha elections 2024. The Election Commission of India displays these results.

Key insights from Data:

- 1) This report is based on general elections to parliamentary Constituencies state-wise that is for 28 states and 8 union territories.
- 2) Total number of seats contested is 543.
- 3) Party with highest number of seats is BJP(Bharatiya Janata Party) with 240 seats.
- 4) Vote share for major parties as follows: BJP with 36.56%, INC(Indian National Congress) with 21.19%, SP(Samajwadi Party)-4.58%, and so on.
- 5) Out of 543 seats in Lok sabha, the Majority is BJP(Bharatiya Janata Party) which won 240 seats out of 543, second highest is Indian Congress Party with 99 seats, Samajwadi party won 37 seats, All India Trinamool Congress with 29 seats.
- 6) We can analyze from the data that the leading parties(BJP, INC) have occupied 339 seats majority leaving only 206 seats for all other parties where the Samajwadi party won 37 seats, etc..
- 7) The Samajwadi party with vote share of only 4.58% but is leading than others with 7.03% of the vote share.
- 8) BJP winning is contributed mostly by the states Madhya Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Delhi, Uttarakhand, and Tripura.
- 9) Notably the majority party(BJP) won all 26 seats in Gujarat which is the home state of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.
- 10) The total number of female candidates elected is 78 and the overall national turnout is approximately 67%.
- 11) The Largest margin of victory is 7,00,000 votes that is in Gujarat and the smallest margin of victory is 1236 votes in Uttar Pradesh.

Conclusion:

These are the key insights from the 2024 Lok Sabha Election results.